The Data Protection Act 1998

Please Note: Your answer on this form and other data (e.g. Competition and Exhibition details) will be maintained in databases by Tandridge Photographic Society (TPS). TPS will NOT share this data with any other organisation(s). Under the 1998 Act, regulations came into force which affect clubs and societies like TPS. Although the 'personal data' that we keep on members are only membership details and competition results, we are required to comply with all the data protection principles and data subject access provisions of the Act.

If any of your details change please complete a new form. Blank forms are available on our website or from either the Secretary and the Treasurer.
